Thursday's Fire.

One of the most spectacular and threatening fires in the history of Hondo occurred between 1:00 and 2:00 Thursday afternoon when fire destroyed the garage, storerooms and office of the Yantis Motor Co.

The fire originated in the engine room of the garage, presumably from short circuited wires. Mr. R. V. Carter, who discovered the fire, endeavored to extinguish it with fire extinguishers but failed. An alarm was promptly turned in and soon the Hondo fire department and hundreds of citizens were engaged in one of the most desperate struggles ever witnessed in this section, everyone realizing the seriousness of the situation.

A better fight was never put up by the Hondo fire department and the citizens generally. That they were able to confine the fire to the building of its origin seems almost a miracle; the appalling disaster that would have befallen the town, had the efforts of the fire fighters proved futile, makes one shudder to contemplate.

When the fire assumed its most threatening aspect a distress call was sent to the Sabinal fire department and soon that efficient fire fighting aggregation was battling with the flames. The Sabinal fire boys made a record run, one of the machines having a stream of water playing on the fire in forty five minutes after receiving the call; the other Sabinal machine arrived in fifty-three minutes.

The calling of the Sabinal fire department was a precautionary measure and events proved that its presence was not absolutely necessary. The fire was practically under control when the company arrived, but had the fire gotten away from the local company the services of the visitors would have been very much needed. It was the fear of everyone that the explosion of the acetylene tanks and gasoline storage tanks would scatter fire in every direction, but these explosions failed to materialize, thanks to the foresight of those directing the operations at the fire. The people of Hondo feel very grateful to the Sabinal fire company for their prompt response to their distress call.

Both the Star Theater and the two-story residence occupied by Mrs. Harison, in close proximity to the burned garage, caught fire several times but each time were put out. If the fire had gotten beyond control in these buildings it is hard to predict what the result would have been.

By heroic work the stock of automobiles, tractors, auto parts, accessories, etc., carried by the Yantis Motor Co., were carried to safety, the greatest loss to that company resulting in damage to garage equipment. The company carried insurance on its stock of cars, tractors, parts and accessories but carried no insurance on their garage equipment, and sustained a loss between $2,500 and $3,000. All the cars stored in the garage as well as those left there for repairs were removed to safety except the car of Col. W. B. Odum, which could not be moved and was completely destroyed.

The heaviest loser by the fire was Mr. F. S. Cockrell, owner of the building burned. His loss will probably be between $4,000 and $5,000, with no insurance. We understand it is not Mr.

Cockrell's intention to restore the destroyed building—not at present at least.

The Yantis Motor Co. purposes re-establishing its business in the immediate future—as soon as a suitable location can be secured.

This was the most serious fire that has occurred here in many a day and emphasized the fact that we should have more efficient fire-fighting apparatus. The almost super-human work done by our fire company, aided by hundreds of citizens, should be rewarded by at least being provided with the most up-to-date means of combating fires. We have the material in men for a splendid fire-fighting aggregation. Given the proper equipment and we would have but little to fear from future fires.

The Chamber of Commerce could very properly give this matter its very serious consideration.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Tampke.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Tampke died at her old home at Utopia, Texas, Sunday February 6th, 1921, at about five o'clock p. m. after a long illness, at the age of 32 years and 9 months.

Miss Tampke was a girl of good character, and well liked by all who knew her; she was raised at Utopia, and afterwards moved with her parents and family to Hondo and vicinity, where she is well known. She attended a business college at Tyler, Texas, completing her course. In completing her course in college she accepted a position at Houston as cashier and bookkeeper, and afterwards accepted a position as cashier and bookkeeper in the Gunter Hotel at San Antonio, later she held the same position in the San Anthony Hotel. She moved with this company to Los Angeles, California, and continued in the same position as cashier and bookkeeper. Her health began to fail here, so she returned to San Antonio where her parents, brothers and sister then resided, where the best medical aid was obtained, but not improving much, she, with her parents, moved to the ranch at Utopia, where she lingered until death.

Miss Tampke is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sunim Tampke, two brothers, John E. Tampke of San Antonio, and Melvin Tampke of Louisiana, and one sister, Corinne Tampke of San Antonio (all of whom were present when death came, except Melvin Tampke) and many other near and dear relatives and friends of Hondo and vicinity to mourn her death.

She was laid to rest in the cemetery at Utopia, February 8th, 1921, pastor of the Baptist Church officiating. May she rest in peace.

Mrs. John Hauser.

Friday of last week, February 4th, 1921, Mrs. John Hauser departed from life at Quibi, where she was born and reared as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rud. Schorobiny. She was born January 12, 1857 and named Ottillie. Grown up to womanhood, she married Mr. John Hauser in 1892. This union was blessed with one child only, and it died in its childhood days. She had three brothers, Rafael, Michael and Gabriel Schorobiny, of whom only Michael survives her, Gabriel died early, Rafael over 25 years ago, also both of her parents.

Deceased was laid to rest in the new cemetery at Quibi last Saturday afternoon, Rev. A. Falkenberg conducting the ceremonies. A large concourse of mourning relatives and friends followed her remains to their last resting place. The large attendance of the funeral showed how beloved and highly esteemed deceased had been by all who knew her—a devoted wife to her husband, who survives her, true to her relatives and friends. A good woman has gone to her last reward.

Yantis Motor Co. Is Thankful.

In times of calamity man forgets his own selfish interests and shows that spirit of altruism that is the redeeming glory of the race. It is when one is helpless in the hands of fate that the call for help brings out the best efforts of his fellow men, and gives them an opportunity to demonstrate their unselfishness. And a grander demonstration of this we never observed than that exhibited by the entire citizenship of Hondo, high and low, rich and poor, white and colored, native and Mexican, at the fire which destroyed our garage Thursday afternoon. To one and all, and especially to the Hondo Fire Department and its chief and the Sabinal Fire Boys, we extend our sincerest thanks for their valiant efforts to save our property from the flames. Most gratefully yours,

YANTIS MOTOR CO.

Card of Thanks.

Prisoners Break Jail.

Theodore Niest and Axel A. Oberg, the two prisoners arrested at Lacoste some weeks ago charged with theft of over $50 value, and also of burglarizing a mercantile establishment at Devine, have "blown the coop" or rather the Hondo jail. Just when they shook the dust of Hondo from their feet is not definitely known but it must have been between 9:00 and 11:00 Friday morning. Their departure was discovered about 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon. After breakfast Friday morning Sheriff Bader gave them the privilege of the jail, climbed up and made their way through the sky-light in the roof, slid down the gutter pipe to the ground—and freedom.

They were seen by a colored woman west of town about 11:00 o'clock, headed west. A day or two ago they asked the sheriff to get them two hats which he obligingly did, they being short on headgear.

Sheriff Bader has gone in pursuit of his erstwhile boarders. That he may apprehend and return them to their vacated quarters is the wish of every one.

LATER.—Niest and Oberg were captured in Del Rio by Val Verde county officers. They were taken off a freight train late Thursday evening. Their liberty was of short duration. They will be returned to jail here.

Threshing Notice.

I will thresh cane seed, milo, maize, etc., at my place Thursday, February 17th.

He told the officers he had a brother Tony Ronihetto, working in a mine in Kansas but did not know his exact location. Deceased claimed New Jersey as his native state. The body was buried at the expense of the county.

St. Joseph Man Able To Attend To Business Again—Feels Fine Now.

"My health was so bad when I began taking Tanlac that I had given up my business. I have gained twenty-five pounds and am feeling so fine I have taken up my old business again," said George A. Fisher, 1091 Highland Avenue, St. Joseph, Mo., a wholesale and retail poultry dealer at 202 Elm-street.

"For the past three years stomach trouble and rheumatism have been pulling me down until finally I had to give up all work and was just barely able to hobble around. My digestion was terribly out of order and it looked like every bite I ate would sour on my stomach. I would blow all up with sour gas and feel so tight across my chest I could hardly breathe. I had rheumatism all over my body and the pains were so severe, especially in my legs, it was all I could do to get about at all. Nervous spells often came on me and sometimes I had awful headaches and dizzy spells. I lost considerable weight and made plans to go to a different climate before it was too late. It was just at this time that I got hold of Tanlac and now my recovery has been so complete and I have been built up so fine in every way that I feel just like I am starting life all over again. I am eating whatever is set before me and I never have a sign of indigestion. All traces of rheumatism have left me and I never have an ache or pain. My nerves are strong and steady and I am no longer bothered with head-aches or dizzy spells."

Tanlac is sold in Hondo by W. H. Windrow; in Castroville by Joseph Courand & Co.; and in Dunlay by Louis A. Haby; and by all leading druggists.

Kickapoo Indians Draw Allotments at Eagle Pass.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Feb. 25.—Eagle Pass was in the hands of the Kickapoo Indians Tuesday. They came up from Mexico where they have their happy hunting grounds, to draw their quarterly stipend from the United States Government, which is allotted to them under a treaty regulation. There were about two hundred of them here and they roamed the streets, bucks, squaws and papooses—in their picturesque garb, which afforded an interesting spectacle. Their allotments range from $10 to $500 and it is estimated that about $10,000 is distributed among them in this manner every six months.

The Kickapoos came originally from Oklahoma, where they have property holdings, from which they draw their allotments. They have chosen Mexico as their place of habitation because of the hunting and fishing privileges they are permitted to enjoy there. They have their settlement in the vicinity of Mazquis, which is about 160 miles from Eagle Pass.—Galveston News.

The above clipping is reprinted at the request of Capt. X. Wants, an old Indian fighter. The clipping is some two or three years old.

YEA OR NAY?

Criticism can be one of two things—for the good of the institution criticized or for the bad. When one criticizes without knowing what he is talking about, he is doing much harm. He is a knocker. Some people are natural born knockers. They knock the progressive; they knock the non-progressive. In fact, they knock everybody and everything—except themselves. We have noticed a few of these persons hocking the school, the town and the people.

Now, just to show you what has been done, and to prove you knockers wrong, we are going to tell you a few things about the past two years. How was the school standing then? Was there any co-operation between the town and school? Was there any understanding between the faculty and students?

How many courses were affiliated with the State Department at the beginning of the Howell administration? There were six. At the end of the next year the school was more than fully affiliated, having fifteen and one-half credits. At the present time every course offered is affiliated except fourth year English, and very few schools of our size have this affiliated. Indeed, many much larger schools have not secured it. By this it will be seen that there would be much honor in acquiring this credit. We have much hope of obtaining it this year. Everything possible has been done, and the only thing which remains to be done is the continuation of the good work on the part of the students and teachers, and the final submitting of the work at the end of the school year. We believe the students will realize their duty and do their part. The faculty has been making a hard fight during the past months and it is not at all likely it will stop.

The co-operation, in the past two years, between the people and the school, was wonderful. Efficiency of the authorities, and confidence of the people in the authorities, has caused this. The town slowly realized that the school depends upon them for help. There were no quarrels and squabbles. Everything passed along peacefully and smoothly.

The Parent-Teacher Association has never been known to be more alive, more active, than it has been during the last two years. Last year the enrollment was the largest in the history of the organization, and much good work was done.

Better facilities have never been had. Hondo High School teachers are University graduates, experienced and capable. Much of the success during the Howell administration is due to this, but much is also due to Mr. Howell. Many thanks should be given to him who secured the services of such efficient teachers.

That there was, and is, a mutual understanding between the students and the authorities is proved by the good work done. The percentage of failures was lower, and the work done was thorough in every respect. The democratic spirit is pronounced. There are few misunderstandings between teachers and pupils, but the pupils know they are under an efficient authority, and they appreciate the fact.

If this is not a fine and up-to-date high school, pray show us one.

EX-STUDENT EXCHANGE.

Mr. Elmer Rothe of Hondo and Miss Anna Lyell of Sabinal entered into the strenuous life a short while ago. They are at home at "Speck's" ranch.

Miss Nora Karrer was visiting in town last week.

Miss Lillian Brucks was here from San Antonio last week.

Jules Schmitt, Hondo High's erstwhile artist, is still in San Antonio. We need his help again.

Kyle Bradley left Hondo for Sulphur Springs, Louisiana, last week. What's out there?

Hondo High has quite a few representatives in Mexico. Louis Carter, "Boxy" Karrer and Frank Stiegler are among these. We wonder if they have made their fortunes.

Panchita Gilliam is back at Southwestern University.

THEATER PARTY.

Friday evening, January 28, the Juniors were carried to the home of Lorraine Heath, by Earl Lacy, in his Ford. From there the jolly crowd went to the Star, where a number of seats had been reserved for them. Not less than ten packages of chewing gum were brought forth, and Jessie Blocker made herself famous as the champion chewer of the Junior class. When not busy with fun-making, the class enjoyed the show, after which they were again carried to their meeting place.

After taking off their wraps the dining room doors were thrown open and no one had eyes for anything except the huge bowl of punch, or mouth for anything except the mountains of sandwiches. Under the maneuvers of all, the mountains became mere plains and the bowl became dry.

They retired from this scene to another where numerous games were played. However, the Junior characteristic—a craving for excitement—showed up and a number of races were run. In one, Clara Buss was the winner, beating Henry Windrow, and breaking the world record by destroying a large sandwich in one second. Tiring of this, they turned to Edison's Orchestra for music, while V. H. Blocker did the fancy dance. The fun was increasing, however, the time was doing the same, and as Lorraine couldn't find any candles the bunch had to beat it at twelve.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS.

Hondo Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Hondo citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Hondo citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

F. H. Bohlen, proprietor of a repair shop, Hondo, says: "I always use Doan's Kidney Pills when my back bothers me and they never fail to help me. My back ached at times and I had sort of a dull pain in my kidneys. I was often dizzy and black specks appeared before my eyes. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions were highly colored and burned in passage. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured the attack. My back is now as strong as iron and my kidneys act regularly. I think the world of Doan's Kidney Pills."

A UNIVERSITY OF THE FIRST CLASS.

When our forefathers conceived and planned a university of the first class for the State of Texas, they were practical and far-seeing. They realized that no state could become great unless its citizens were great; that, unless an excellent institution for higher study were established within the boundaries of the State, those having the potentialities of greatness would go elsewhere for their training and would never return.

Through decade after decade the University of Texas grew and prospered on its classic forty-acre campus. Great teachers produced great students, to the good of the State. Soon Texas came to be known among state universities as the third in efficiency and standing.

But this high rank was not for long. The people of Texas gradually failed to provide for the immense number of students who wish to scale the ladder of success through professional and involved commercial fields. Appropriations failed to increase in proportion with the cost of living. Other colleges and universities secured better facilities. Other colleges and universities secured substantial, well-heated, well-lighted buildings where the University of Texas was compelled to erect unsightly, barn-like shacks, one after another, stretching in endless chain across its beautiful campus.

Modern technical training grows more difficult with each year. If a student is compelled to attend classes in cold, poorly lighted, unsafe, unsanitary structures, he is placed under a handicap. He goes out into the world but half equipped to contest with the better taught man from the colleges of the North, East and West.

Whether the University remains on its present campus or moves to the great five-hundred-acre tract in the bend of the beautiful Colorado, five miles to the west, it still must have bigger and better buildings; more professors of the type who by living example fire the student with the desire to be great in learning, in the professions, or in commerce; and better housing facilities.

The Board of Regents recommends that the University be moved to a larger campus, where it will have ample room to expand with the growth of years. If the State purchase the present plant and re-imburse the permanent fund for sums used in the past to meet shortage in appropriation, the University will have about five million dollars; another five million will be needed to start anew.

Those who oppose the move point to the fact that twenty-two modern, three-story buildings can be placed around the border of the present campus in quadrangle formation, without touching the ground now occupied; that forty thousand students could thus be easily instructed; and that there would still be room in the center for a university union or community center, a larger library, the law building, and engineering building, and an administration building. They say, further, that land east of the present campus, to make a total of two hundred and twenty acres, could be secured at comparatively little expense; and there, within a stone's throw of the present campus and continuous with it, could be laid out athletic fields and erected dormitories to house the students.

Both sides of the question should be carefully considered before any definite stand is taken either one way or the other. —THE LONGHORN.

CHILD SAVING WORK IN ARMENIA TOLD BY AN AMERICAN

Charles V. Vickrey Gives Facts of Near East Relief Program for Orphans.

Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of the Near East Relief, has returned from a trip of inspection throughout Central Europe and the Near East, and made a report to the trustees of the Near East Relief in which he covers in detail the actual work of child saving now being conducted by the great American relief organization in the Near East. Mr. Vickrey believes that "a few millions of dollars wisely expended at this time in the education of the children of the Near East, in character building and in moulding these young lives, will be worth vastly more to the world than billions of dollars spent later in suppressing international warfare and strife."

Mr. Vickrey considers the need in the Near East and especially in Armenia greater than anywhere else in the world, because, as he says, "In the countries of Central Europe there are going governments which have merely been temporarily impoverished by war. In the Near East, on the other hand, there is no such thing as stable government. The whole fabric of the state has to be created from the beginning, and the innocent and helpless children have to be trained to the responsibilities of future citizenship. Peace in the Near East and, in great measure, throughout the world, will depend very largely on the character of the citizenship of the peoples of the Near East."

Irresistible Appeal of Orphans.
Describing the orphanage work of the Near East Relief in the Armenian Republic, Mr. Vickrey said:

"We have at Alexandropol in the Caucasus, one orphanage where there are approximately 10,000 homeless children, fatherless or motherless, many of them having no known living relative. Some of them do not even know their own names, or the place of their birth. They have shown wonderful recuperative powers, and to see them play their kindergarten and other games under the direction of our American relief workers, one could never believe that they had passed through the years of suffering that most of them have experienced since they, or their parents, were driven from their homes in Central Turkey five years ago.

"For the accommodation of these orphans there are sixty splendid stone buildings, erected as barracks for the Russian army. These buildings are now given to us by the Armenian government for a period of ten years and lend themselves admirably to relief purposes.

"This orphanage at Alexandropol is but one of the 229 orphanages that the Near East Relief is now operating in various parts of the Caucasus, Anatolia, Cilicia, Syria and the Constantinople Straits area.

"Thirty miles from Alexandropol, at Kars, there is another group of Russian army barracks, which were given us by the Armenian government for relief purposes. I was going through the dormitories of this orphanage at Kars when the young American college girl in charge turned to me and said: 'Mr. Vickrey, it sometimes makes me feel just a little older than Mother to be called "Mother" by 6,000 of those Armenian children. And that is exactly what she was—the only mother that these 6,000 Armenian children have, except as she plays herself of the organized assistance of native Armenian women, in caring for this large family.

"In the hospital at Kars I found 200 beds, which, the day I was there, were occupied by 1,288 patients. It frequently being necessary to put two or more children in a single bed. At Alexandropol we have in one hospital, or group of hospital buildings, 1,500 tubercular patients. At Karakia, forty miles east of Alexandropol we have an orphanage devoted exclusively to the care and training of the blind children. At Delijan we have another orphanage, located on a mountain side, for the care of tubercular children. This segregation being as much for the welfare of the healthy children in the orphanages as for the care of the unfortunate consumptives. At Erivan we formerly had twenty-six distinct orphanages, though they have now been reduced and consolidated to seven in number. There are something more than 6,000 orphans in the region of Harput."

The Spirit of Jenny Lind Lives Again in Frieda Hempel

Unique Concert Celebrates Centenary of Great Soprano
Brought Here by P. T. Barnum

Reviewed by John H. Daly

NEW YORK.—Jenny Lind has passed from the category of artists to the list of historical personages, and it was in tribute to her fame that on October 6th, last, this unique concert was given in Carnegie Hall. This was the centenary of her birth, celebrated in America, Sweden and England, but particularly in New York, where the program of the first American concert given by Jenny Lind was reproduced exactly in numbers and costumes. That great temple of music on Fifty-Seventh Street has housed many remarkable performances, but this concert was outstanding. The tickets and programs were replicas of the originals, now cherished relics. The ushers wore colored rosettes and carried beribboned wands, but it was the stage and the artists that worked so well the illusion of bringing us to that original concert. The orchestra wore quaint suits and stock-ties of by-gone days, while Miss Frieda Hempel, who represented Jenny Lind, was a charming picture in an exact copy of the gown of the earlier Queen of Song, and Arthur Middleton, portraying Signor Balletti, the baritone who appeared that night with Lind, also dressed the part. The program followed:

In answer to the tumultuous applause, Miss Hempel sang as encores those heard at Castle Garden, while she played her own accompaniments to them on the piano that Jenny Lind autographed after her similar use of it on that historic evening.

It was on September 11th, 1850, that the first concert by Jenny Lind was given at Castle Garden, now the Aquarium. To the stroller along Broadway where it meets the Battery, the city then presented a far different appearance from the impressive one of today. Instead of skyscrapers there were low buildings, and beyond them the harbor was filled, not with Leviathans, but with full-rigged ships. Europe seemed

MISS FRIEDA HEMPEL

P. T. Barnum is a name that needs no introduction to Americans. To most he recalls the days of the circus with its clowns and freaks, but he is known that Barnum was a genius of a show-man, who realized what a sensation Jenny Lind would be in this country. Barnum had an appreciation for other things beside the tent and saw-dust ring, and he engaged Lind for her American tour, the first concert of which took place at Castle Garden.

She was then at the very height of her powers. Her listeners were electrified at her achievements, but it was when she sang the simple ballad, in the simplest possible way, that she had the greatest effect. From her earliest days her voice had a quality of intense melancholy which drew tears from the listeners.

Small wonder then that New York and elsewhere wished to observe her centenary in the fitting manner of this concert of October 6th. But it was the choice of Frieda Hempel as the impersonator of the "Swedish Nightingale," that made the evening so memorable. Of all the singers since Castle Garden, Hempel, in her voice, art and personality seemed most strikingly to resemble the rare gifts of that earlier singer. Her artistic conquests have been made in the leading musical centers of both continents and her especially successful roles were the favorites of Jenny Lind.

Many of us may have often wished that on the night of Jenny Lind's first concert we could have been in that memorable gathering, but after listening to Miss Hempel, we believe that we experienced most of the emotions felt that night long ago. Both as soloist and with Arthur Middleton, who sang superbly, she was the great soprano. The evening really seemed to have been spent in Castle Garden, formerly that historic fort of lower New York City, that served as the great concert and assembly hall of the earlier part of the last century. There were no courtesying couples in silks and broadcloths; around were seated men and women in conventional evening dress, but save only that we were in Carnegie Hall instead of Castle Garden, the costumes of the singers and the orchestra, the atmosphere of the stage, and the glorious voice of Hempel ranging now in trilling, now in sympathetic tones, carried us back seventy years to a night that will live long in history.

"A NATION SAVED BY AMERICA," SAYS CLEVELAND H. DODGE

of Near East Relief.

Cleveland H. Dodge, New York banker and business man, director of the National City Bank, and treasurer of The Russell Sage Foundation and of the Near East Relief, declares that "a nation has been saved by American philanthropy, and the generosity of the American people through the Near East Relief, in its work for the Armenians."

"The lowest official estimate indicates that one million persons are living today who would not be alive had it not been for this relief," Mr. Dodge continued. "I have an autograph letter from Dr. H. Ohandjanian, president of the Armenian Republic, in which he writes: 'America literally saved us from starvation.'"

"Wholly aside from adults who have been saved from starvation, we today have in orphanages and elsewhere under our care 110,000 homeless, fatherless or motherless children who are absolutely dependent upon us. This is exclusive of 63 hospitals with 6,552 beds, 128 clinics, rescue homes for girls and unnumbered thousands of refugees who are being helped through our industrial relief and in other ways. "The Near East Relief has during the past four or five years commissioned and sent to the Near East more than 1,000 American relief workers, of whom 500 are still in the field, all of them working at great financial sacrifice—the standard of salary being $50 per month and maintenance—and many of them facing great personal danger and hardship in the performance of their life-saving service. A score of them have died from typhus or other diseases more or less related to their faithfulness in the performance of relief service.

"Nor is that all. We have raised and disbursed during war times and in a war-torn area, in large measure under enemy control, more than $41,000,000 in cash, and, including flour, Red Cross and other supplies administered by our agents, a total of cash and supplies in excess of $50,000,000. The official reports show that on June 30, 1920, we had in orphanages 54,000 children, and that we are partially supporting outside of the orphanages 56,069 children, making a total of 110,000 boys and girls now under the care of the Near East Relief."

Mr. Dodge considers the work of the Near East Relief one of the most stupendous undertakings of disinterested philanthropy the world has ever seen.

"In countries whose population totals more than 80,000,000 souls, American idealism exemplified by the work of the Near East Relief constitutes today a torch of enlightenment and an influence for peace throughout the whole Near East," he maintains. "Our American ideal of liberty, industry and helpfulness has brought us as a people happiness, prosperity and fulfillment. Out of the fullness of this heritage we are furnishing a faithful and undaunted Christ, a people the brotherly aid which will enable them to reach the same fulfillment that God has given us."
